General:

In accordance with the provisions in the Supplement to the Transit Procedures Manual (points 3.9.4.2 and 3.9.4.3), access to the data is either by direct transmission of the ETD data to an electronic system of the relevant Customs Administration or by accessing the electronic system you are using. Make sure you create and send ETD. Access must be provided at the premises of the respective customs office.

If these two alternatives are not feasible at the present time, access to the ETD data by the responsible customs office on your premises is also permitted for a further period to be defined. However, this is only valid until one of the two named alternatives has been implemented.

Details in the respective Member States:

The statements made by you in connection with the application for the individual airports apply.

AT:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

BE:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

BG:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

CY:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

CZ:

The Czech Customs Administration has developed specific guidelines for the procedure for using the electronic transport document. After that, the economic operators have to communicate by means of certain messages with the customs authorities at the airports. If you are not yet in a position to exchange such messages, you have the obligation to contact the Czech customs authorities and ask them to allow the transitional solution described in the Transit Procedure Manual to be used for the necessary period until the relevant message traffic is established. The unofficial English translation of the Czech guidelines sent to me added to the list of handling agents below.

DK:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

DE:

Data access of the local customs offices to the handling system i-Cap is realized.

The data transfer in the context of the IT procedure ATLAS remains unaffected.
Until further notice, transmissions must be made in accordance with the applicable ATLAS procedural instruction and the participant's leaflet for the respective release.

EE:

Data access by the local customs authorities can be realized.

IT:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

FI:

Access by the local customs authorities to the ETD data available.

FR:

The local customs offices have access to the Cargo Community System CIN to which the ETD data is sent.

The French Customs Administration has noted that, in particular in Paris (CDG) and Toulouse (TLS), there are still some improvements to be made in the future and asks to contact the following persons at the two airports mentioned above.

CDG: jean-luc.cornillou@douane.finances.gouv.fr & michael.duffet@douane.finances.gouv.fr

TLS: sylviane.lacombe@douane.finances.gouv.fr & cathy.cortade@douane.finances.gouv.fr

GR:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

GB:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

MR:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

HU:

Direct access by customs to ETD data available.

IE:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

IT:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

Data access of the local customs offices to the handling system i-Cap is realized.

LT:

Data access by the local customs authorities can be realized.

LV:

Data access by the local customs authorities can be realized.

LU:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

MT:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

NL:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

PT:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

PL:

Data access of the local customs offices to the handling system i-Cap is realized.

RO:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

SE:

The ETD data is transmitted directly to the local customs system.

SI:

Regulation CZ

Conditions for electronic communication with the customs authorities for authorization of simplification pursuant to Article 233 (4) (e) Regulation (EU) No 952/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council laying down the Union Customs Code – the use of an electronic transport document as customs declaration to place goods under the Union transit procedure (hereinafter “ETD”)

1. Electronic lodging of the ETD at the office of departure (hereinafter “CO departure”)

- 1.1. The ETD will be lodged electronically in the form of an EDI structured data message called D_N_ETDO which is transmitted between the applicant's information system and the information system of the Customs Administration of the Czech Republic.
 - 1.1.1. EDI (Electronic Data Interchange) is considered to be a mutual electronic (non-paper) exchange of structured data messages between information systems of different legal entities via communication networks. The transmitted messages must comply with a pre-agreed format while ensuring unambiguous identification of the sender, the undeniable and unchanged of the content of the transmitted messages,
 - 1.1.2. a structured data message is considered to be the electronically transmitted document (data sets) required for the transit regime according to established standards. Messages are structured into data sets (logical grouping of data elements) and data elements while maintaining agreed (defined) syntax rules, ie assembling and arranging in logical blocks to allow for automatic processing.
- 1.2. The structure and content of the individual data messages can be found on the Czech Customs Administration's website <https://www.celnisprava.cz/en/clo/e-customs/ncts/Stranky/dokumentace-pro-vyrobce-software1.aspx>.
- 1.3. The CO departure through the information center of General Customs Directorate receives electronically lodged ETD by the applicant in the form of the D_N_ETDO message, which is secured by an e-signature. All other structured data messages sent by the applicant are also provided with the signature of the authorized person. The applicant is obliged to update the communication parameters in time by electronic message or in cooperation with the relevant customs office.
- 1.4. If the D_N_ETDO message is formally correct, the CO departure shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_I_EPRIO message of acceptance of the ETD.
- 1.5. The CO departure shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_I_CHB message about the non-acceptance of the ETD with the reasons for its non-acceptance and the type of error in the ETD (D_N_ETDO).
- 1.6. The CO departure shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_R_EKONO message on the control of the goods lodged for release for transit.
- 1.7. The CO departure shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_R_EPRO message on the release of the goods into the transit procedure.
- 1.8. The CO departure shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_R_ENPR message of non-release of the goods into the transit procedure.

- 1.9. The applicant shall inform the CO departure in the form of the D_N_ENES message of the irregularities detected when the goods were presented at CO destination.
- 1.10. The CO departure shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_I_ENES message of irregularities detected when the goods were presented at the CO destination.
- 1.11. The CO departure shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_R_EODP message on the discharging of the transit procedure after the irregularities detected have been resolved.
- 1.12. The applicant shall request for the invalidation of the ETD by sending the D_N_ESTO message. If the CO departure shall not accept the D_N_ESTO message, the CO departure send to the applicant the C_I_CHB message.
- 1.13. The CO departure shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_I_ESTO message of acceptance of a request for invalidation of the ETD (D_N_ESTO message).
- 1.14. The CO departure shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_R_ESTO message on the invalidation of the ETD.
- 1.15. The CO departure shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_R_ZEST message on the rejection of the request for invalidation of the ETD.

2. Electronic lodging of the ETD at the office of destination (hereinafter "CO destination")

- 2.1. The ETD will be lodged electronically in the form of an EDI structured data message called D_N_ETDU which is transmitted between the applicant's information system and the information system of the Customs Administration of the Czech Republic.
 - 2.1.1. EDI (Electronic Data Interchange) is considered to be a mutual electronic (non-paper) exchange of structured data messages between information systems of different legal entities via communication networks. The transmitted messages must comply with a pre-agreed format while ensuring unambiguous identification of the sender, the undeniable and unchanged of the content of the transmitted messages,
 - 2.1.2. a structured data message is considered to be the electronically transmitted document (data sets) required for the transit regime according to established standards. Messages are structured into data sets (logical grouping of data elements) and data elements while maintaining agreed (defined) syntax rules, ie assembling and arranging in logical blocks to allow for automatic processing.
- 2.2. The structure and content of the individual data messages can be found on the Czech Customs Administration's website <https://www.celnisprava.cz/en/clo/e-customs/ncts/Stranky/dokumentace-pro-vyrobce-software1.aspx>.
- 2.3. The CO destination through the information center of General Customs Directorate receives electronically lodged ETD by the applicant in the form of the D_N_ETDU message, which is secured by an e-signature. All other structured data messages sent by the applicant are also provided with the signature of the authorized person. The applicant is obliged to update the communication parameters in time by electronic message or in cooperation with the relevant customs office.
- 2.4. If the D_N_ETDU message is formally correct, the CO destination shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_I_EPRIU message of acceptance of the ETD.
- 2.5. The CO destination shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_I_CHB message about the non-acceptance of the ETD with the reasons for its non-acceptance and the type of error in the ETD (D_N_ETDU).
- 2.6. The CO destination shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_R_EKONO message on the control of the goods.

- 2.7. The CO destination shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_R_EVYK message on the permission for unloading of the goods.
- 2.8. The applicant shall inform the CO destination in the form of the D_I_EVYK message on the results of unloading of the goods the end of the transit procedure.
- 2.9. The CO destination shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_I_ENESU message on the irregularities detected at the end of the transit procedure.
- 2.10. The CO destination shall inform the applicant in the form of the C_R_EUKO message on the end of the transit procedure and the placing of the goods in the temporary storage on the basis of the customs declaration for temporary storage.
- 2.11.

Customs offices of departure:

Please refer to the table below for authorized customs offices of departure. Customs offices of departure, which were not listed in this table but were requested by you, could not be granted due to the findings made in the course of the consultation procedure by the requested, locally competent, customs offices.

This was either to establish that no movements were taking place at the airport in question or that the customs authorities there were not granted access to the data of the ETD.

Annex to field 9: "Customs office of destination"

Authorization number

DEETD3300ED000002

Version 2 dated June 19 2018

Holder of the authorization (Name and Address)

Lufthansa Cargo AG
Frankfurt Flughafen, Tor 21, Geb. 322

60564 Frankfurt am Main

EORI-Number:

DE2000326

Customs offices of destination:

The authorized customs office of destination can be found in the table below. Customs offices of destination not mentioned in this table, but requested by you, could not be granted due to the findings made during the consultation procedure by the requested, locally competent, customs offices.

This was either to establish that no movements were taking place at the airport in question or that the customs authorities there were not granted access to the data of the ETD.

General remarks (Conditions)

1.

Insofar as your data systems do not yet rule out the possibility of retrospectively modifying an electronic transport document used as a customs declaration for the transfer of goods to Union mailing, the document versions must be archived in their data systems with the respective time stamps, and both the original document and any subsequent modifications have to be modified the customs authorities are recognizable and comprehensible.

2.

In view of the legal obligation to carry out a consultation procedure with 45 days' notice, I would point out that the application for further offices of departure or destination must be made well in advance of the start of planned transport operations.

3.

Any discrepancies (eg. missing or excess quantities) in the course of the procedure must be reported immediately to the respective office of departure or destination.
The respective offices of departure or destination can regulate details.

Dear colleagues,

find attached the authorization for TUIfly GmbH for your information and further action.

Due to technical problems in the Customs Decision Management System, the authorization could not be discontinued there. As soon as the technical problems in the CDMS are resolved, I will publish the authorization with the number shown here in CDMS.

The authorization is valid from 19 June 2018.

Do not hesitate to contact me for any questions.

Customs offices of destination:

The authorized customs office of destination can be found in the table below. Customs offices of destination not mentioned in this table, but requested by you, could not be granted due to the findings made during the consultation procedure by the requested, locally competent, customs offices.

This was either to establish that no movements were taking place at the airport in question or that the customs authorities there were not granted access to the data of the ETD.

Customs offices of departure:

Please refer to the table below for authorized customs offices of departure. Customs offices of departure, which were not listed in this table but were requested by you, could not be granted due to the findings made in the course of the consultation procedure by the requested, locally competent, customs offices.

This was either to establish that no movements were taking place at the airport in question or that the customs authorities there were not granted access to the data of the ETD.

General:

In accordance with the provisions in the Supplement to the Transit Procedures Manual (points 3.9.4.2 and 3.9.4.3), access to the data is either by direct transmission of the ETD data to an electronic system of the relevant Customs Administration or by accessing the electronic system you are using. Make sure you create and send ETD. Access must be provided at the premises of the respective customs office.

If these two alternatives are not feasible at the present time, access to the ETD data by the responsible customs office on your premises is also permitted for a further period to be defined. However, this is only valid until one of the two named alternatives has been implemented.

Details in the respective Member States:

The statements made by you in connection with the application for the individual airports apply.

AT:

Data access to the cargo system of the ground handling agents.

CY:

Data access to the cargo system of the ground handling agents.

DE:

Data access to the cargo system of the ground handling agents.

The data transfer in the context of the IT procedure ATLAS remains unaffected. Until further notice, transmissions must be made in accordance with the applicable ATLAS procedural instruction and the participant's leaflet for the respective release.

IT:

Data access to the cargo system of the ground handling agents.

GB:

Data access to the cargo system of the ground handling agents.

GR:

Data access to the cargo system of the ground handling agents.

IT:

Data access to the cargo system of the ground handling agents.

MT:

Data access to the cargo system of the ground handling agents.

PT:

Data access to the cargo system of the ground handling agents.

This data access option can only be used for a transitional period to be regulated in agreement with the Portuguese customs administration.

The ETD data shall be transmitted without exception to the Portuguese Customs Administration as an electronic message (both at the point of departure and in the destination) in their local customs system.

I ask you to do this with the local authorities in Portugal as soon as possible.
